

World's Top HealthTech Companies 2026

Welcome to the application form and thank you for your interest.

TIME and Statista will award the "World's Top HealthTech Companies" for the second time in 2026. The goal of this project is to highlight Healthtech companies that drive innovation, enhance accessibility, and contribute to a more effective and sustainable healthcare system. The ranking will be published on time.com.

To be eligible for our ranking, companies must generate the majority of their revenue by providing technological solutions, products, or services in the healthcare industry.

The analysis will be based on an individual scoring model for each company, including key business metrics and product impact—e.g., pertaining to financial stability and growth.

Please note:

- The survey is open for participation until June 14th, 2026.
- Statista reserves the right to verify the accuracy of the data provided in the survey.
- You may consider collecting the required information prior to starting the survey. A PDF preview of the survey can be found here.
- Your answers will not be published or passed on to third parties and will only be used for the purpose of the project.

For further information pertaining to the methodology and terms of participation, please visit our website or contact healthtech@statista.com.

Disclaimer: The "World's Top HealthTech Companies" ranking will be produced by Statista in cooperation with TIME. These rankings will be published on TIME's online site (<https://time.com>) and on Statista's website (<https://rankings.statista.com>).
